

Project & Job Tracking

With more work being structured as projects, tracking employee time as a part of a task or project is a key part of company productivity. Breeze 360 time and attendance software enables your organization to track multiple projects simultaneously, and gives you the ease of monitoring from the office or on the go.

The Benefits of Breeze 360

Real-time Data

Get up to date tracking on projects and jobs with Breeze 360. Create rules to get notified instantly for many instances, such as employee punches, or when overtime is approaching.

Strategic Time Sheets

Managing project hours is easier than ever with Breeze 360. Quickly identify assigned employees, hours worked, and set alerts for when a project is going to run over the allotted time.

Online Reporting

Create in depth reports relating to jobs and projects. Reporting is fully customizable to allow you to visualize the data you need.

Productivity Management

Managers and HR can view time worked on specific projects and tasks for simple productivity tracking. Breeze allows an unlimited amount of tasks to be created, and can be tracked by time worked per employee, project type, and by location.

A Flexible Tool to Automate Time & Attendance

Dashboard Views

Personalize your project and job tracking with customized dashboards.

Live In/Out Board

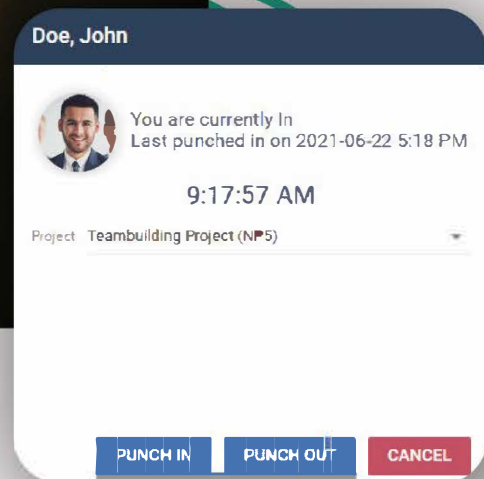

View employee attendance instantly. Need to know who's currently working on a project? You can also filter by project type, currently at work, and department for easier visibility.

Mobile App Capability

Monitor jobs and projects on the go with the Breeze 360 mobile app. With a few taps, view employee attendance while sorting by project.

Geofencing

Geolocation gives the ability to manage multiple work sites, and even view projects worked per site.
